CURRICULUM VITAE

Isabel Garcia-Lopez is Otolaryngologist. From the beginning of her career she has always focused in Laryngology and Voice Care. After her specialization in Madrid she expanded her knowledge in Laryngology in the United States as a visitor (Dr. Rosen, UPMC - Dr. Peak Woo, Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai).

At the same time, she graduated in Music (Vocal Performance and Vocal Pedagogy- Conservatory of Castilla-Leon-Spain).

She works as a laryngologist in La Paz University Hospital, where she is a member staff of the Voice Clinic.

She has written several publications related with laryngology.

She regularly participates as a speaker in Spanish courses in the field of Laryngology as well as in international symposia (Voice Foundation, CoMET, ELS, IAP, PEVOC).

She is currently the General Vicesecretary of the Spanish Society of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery.

She also works as a professor, teaching both individual lessons for singers and courses for otolaryngologists, speech language pathologists and music teachers in Spain.
