

Bio on Austin King MD, Jon Ashby Ph.d and Mike Scarbrough DMA

Dr. Austin King is in the private practice of head and neck surgery and laryngology in Abilene Texas He is past president of the CoMeT and has a long history of interest in the professional voice and phonosurgery.

Dr. Jon Ashby is a professor in speech pathology at Hardin Simmons University with a special interest in the speaking voice.

Dr. Mike Scarbrough is a professor of voice and vocal pedagogy at Abilene Christian University where he is a well known teacher of singing.

These three combine their separate disciplines to make up the Voice Institute of West Texas which does research and treatment of vocal problems. The Institute treats a wide range of vocal disorders from Botox injections for spasmodic dysphonia to rehabilitative techniques for the disordered singing voice.