

Lotta-Maria Oksanen, M.D. Helsinki University Hospital, Helsinki, Finland Department of Otorhinolaryngology and Phoniatics – Head and Neck Surgery and

Doctoral Student in the Faculty of Medicine, University of Helsinki

Mrs. Oksanen is an ENT-specializing doctor in Helsinki University Hospital and doctoral researcher in Helsinki University. She came up with the idea of the multidisciplinary COVID-19 research project consortium, COVID19VATEHY, in Spring 2020, which has been further co-organized with Dr. Sanmark and Associate Professor Geneid. In this research group, we study the spread mechanisms of COVID-19 and its' impact on the physiological and psychological welfare of healthcare workers, among others.

Enni Sanmark, M.D, PhD. Helsinki University Hospital, Helsinki, Finland

Department of Otorhinolaryngology and Phoniatics – Head and Neck Surgery

Dr. Sanmark is an ENT-specializing doctor and post-doctoral researcher and co-leader in COVID19VATEHY project consortium, which studies the spread mechanisms of COVID-19 and its' impact on the physiological and psychological welfare of healthcare workers, among others.

Ahmed Geneid, Otorhinolaryngologist and Phoniatician in Helsinki University Hospital, Helsinki, Finland Department of Otorhinolaryngology and Phoniatics – Head and Neck Surgery and

Associate professor in the Faculty of Medicine, University of Helsinki.

Associate Professor Geneid is a highly experienced and valued laryngological expert. As a head of his clinic, he has leads the work of over 50 employees of 10 different professional groups. In addition, he is co-leader with other authors a multidisciplinary project on COVID-19 called COVID19VATEHY.